NEW QUESTION: 2

You are the security manager of Microliss Inc. Your enterprise uses a wireless network infrastructure with access points ranging 150-350 feet. The employees using the network complain that their passwords and important official information have been traced.

You discover the following clues:

The information has proved beneficial to another company.

The other company is located about 340 feet away from your office.

The other company is also using wireless network.

The bandwidth of your network has degraded to a great extent.

Which of the following methods of attack has been used?

Answer:

Explanation:

B is incorrect. A Denial-of-Service (DoS) attack is mounted with the objective of causing a negative impact on the performance of a computer or network. It is also known as a network saturation attack or bandwidth consumption attack. Attackers perform DoS attacks by sending a large number of protocol packets to the network. The effects of a DoS attack are as follows:

Saturates network resources

Disrupts connections between two computers, thereby preventing communications between services

Disrupts services to a specific computer

Causes failure to access a Web site

Results in an increase in the amount of spam

A Denial-of-Service attack is very common on the Internet because it is much easier to accomplish.

Most of the DoS attacks rely on the weaknesses in the TCP/IP protocol.

NEW QUESTION: 4

You have an app named App1 that uses data from two on-premises Microsoft SQL Server databases named DB1 and DB2.

You plan to move DB1 and DB2 to Azure.

You need to implement Azure services to host DB1 and DB2. The solution must support server-side transactions across DB1 and DB2.

Solution: You deploy DB1 and DB2 to SQL Server on an Azure virtual machine.

Does this meet the goal?

A. NO

B. Yes

Answer: B

Explanation:

Understanding distributed transactions.

When both the database management system and client are under the same ownership (e.g. when SQL Server is deployed to a virtual machine), transactions are available and the lock duration can be controlled.
