NEW QUESTION: 3

An organization is implementing changes to its financial risk management portfolio. The project manager has been assigned to a system upgrade project that is required to be completed by a specific date. The project has completed the planning phase and started the execution phase. After a period of time, the project manager identifies major difficulties related to resourcing constraints which will prevent the project from achieving the committed go-live date.

What should the project manager do?

- A. Reprioritize the requirements and, based on the result, reduce the scope to be able to complete the project within the original deadline and budget.
- B. Update the project risk register with the resourcing constraint risk and closely monitor its impact to the project deliverables and go-live date.
- C. Escalate the risk to the project sponsor and request additional funds to engage more resources to deliver the project as per the committed dates.
- D. Update the issue log and submit a change request with the analysis and recommended solutions to the change control board (CCB) for their decision

Answer: D
