NEW QUESTION: 3

Martha is the business analyst for her organization and she's been asked to help create a SMART goal for her company. Which one of the following organizational goals could be considered SMART?

- A. Add 25 new customers to the sales base.
- B. Increase revenue by ten percent by January 15.
- C. No errors in production of customer products.
- D. Increase revenue by ten percent.

Answer: B

Explanation:
Explanation/Reference:
SMART means that the goals are specific, measurable, achievable, relevant, and time-bounded. The only goal that meets all of these requirements is the goal to increase revenue by ten percent by January 15.
C is incorrect. This is not an example of a SMART goal because there is no deadline.
D is incorrect. This is not an example of a SMART goal because there is no deadline.
A is incorrect. This is not an example of a SMART goal because there is no deadline.

NEW QUESTION: 4

Half of the subjects in an experiment - the experimental group - consumed large quantities of a popular artificial sweetener. Afterward, this group showed lower cognitive abilities than did the other half of the subjects - the control group - who did not consume the sweetener. The detrimental effects were attributed to an amino acid that is one of the sweetener's principal constituents.

Which of the following, if true, would best support the conclusion that some ingredient of the sweetener was responsible for the experimental results?

A. Most consumers of the sweetener do not consume as much of it as the experimental group members did.

B. The quantity of the sweetener consumed by individuals in the experimental group is considered safe by federal food regulators.

C. The amino acid referred to in the conclusion is a component of all proteins, some of which must be consumed for adequate nutrition.

D. A second experiment in which subjects consumed large quantities of the sweetener lacked a control group of subjects who were not given the sweetener.

E. The two groups of subjects were evenly matched with regard to cognitive abilities prior to the experiment.
