You use Visual Studio to design a SharePoint solution for a company that sells wine to customers around the world. The solution must return the total number of cases sold per country. The solution also must allow employees to sort cases of wine that are returned. Employees must sort cases by country, date, and reason for the return. You need to configure the solution to meet the requirements. Which steps should you take? (Each correct answer presents part of the solution. Choose all that apply.)

- A. Configure the query for the Content Search Web Part.
- B. Add country as a property filter to the Search Results Web Part.
- C. Add a Refinement Web Part to the page.
- D. Add a Calendar Web Part to the page.

Answer: A, B, C

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

A:

* From question:

.Employees must sort cases by country, date, and reason for the return.

* On the REFINERS tab, you can choose to limit returned results by adding preselected refiners to your query.

You can specify that the search results that are returned in the Search Results Web Part should be limited to one or more values from the refiners. The list shows all managed properties that are enabled as refiners in the search schema.

B: The Search Results Web Part shows the search results of a query that was entered in a Search Box Web Part.

C: From question:

The solution must return the total number of cases sold per country.

Note:

* Use property filters to query the content of managed properties that are set to queryable in the search schema.
