NEW QUESTION: 1

Which of the following is a requirement for MRP?
A. Inventory records must be accurate.
B. Inventory records must be updated.
C. Inventory records must be maintained.
D. Inventory records must be controlled.

A. Inventory records must be accurate.

B. Inventory records must be updated.

C. Inventory records must be maintained.

D. Inventory records must be controlled.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Materials requirements planning (MRP) is a system that translates a production schedule into requirements for each component needed to meet the schedule. It is usually implemented in the form of a computer-based information system designed to plan and control raw materials used in production. It assumes that forecasted demand is reasonably accurate and that suppliers can deliver based upon this accurate schedule. MRP is a centralized push-through system: output based on forecasted demand is pushed through to the next department or to inventory.
