- A. Specialize in one specific aspect of internal auditing, such as risk assessment or information technology controls.
- B. Expand the scope of every future internal audit activity to all parts of the organization, rather than only the departments identified in the activity's charter.
- C. Participate in continuing professional development activities, such as training courses or rotations into other business units.

D. Review records from prior engagements to determine how best to align the current engagement activities with prior activities.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION: 2

A Work Breakdown Structure can be used for all the following except:

- A. Creating a network diagram, with task dependencies
- B. Creating a project schedule
- C. Assigning resources to work on different work elements
- D. Tracking project performance against cost and schedule

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 3

You are planning to install a Microsoft SQL Server database server that will be used by a web application.

You need to minimize the attack surface area.

Which two actions should you perform? Each correct answer presents part of the solution.

- A. Install the database server on a server core installation of Windows Server 2008 R2.
- B. Use a single user account to start all database services.
- C. Set the database service to start automatically.
- D. Install only the database engine and disable other features.
- E. Install the database server as a named instance.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

To reduce the attack surface area and to make sure you are not affected by undiscovered service vulnerabilities, disable any service that is not required. Because Server Core has fewer system services running on it than a Full installation does, there's less attack surface (that is, fewer possible vectors for malicious attacks on the server). This means that a Server Core installation is more secure than a similarly configured Full installation.
