NEW QUESTION: 3

You have a hosted Exchange organization. All servers in the organization have Exchange Server 2010 SP1 installed.

You need to group a set of users for administrative delegation. What should you create?

- A. A new management role
- B. a managed folder mailbox policy
- C. A new distribution group
- D. a new role assignment

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference: The management role assignment policy is a special object in Exchange 2010. Users are associated with the role assignment policy when their mailboxes are created or if you change the role assignment policy on a mailbox. This is also what you assign end-user management roles to. The combination of all the roles on a role assignment policy defines everything that the user can manage on his or her mailbox or distribution groups.
